PRACTICAL COURSE IN MARINE INSURANCE

Aims: This programme covers a wide range of practical marine insurance disciplines, which aims to provide in-service training for recent entrants to shipping/logistics insurance industries. This course should particularly appeal to insurance and claims executives of shippers, ship-owners, ship-managers, agents, brokers, insurers and P&I clubs, and also to persons in banking and finance houses. This will also provide a useful basis as a refresher for practitioners who may not have previously enjoyed formal instruction in the subject.

Main Features of the Syllabus:

1. The Marine Insurance Market
2. The Principles of Marine Insurance
3. Effecting the Insurance
4. Insurance Clauses (commonly used): Hull, Cargo, Containers, Yacht, Hire/Freight, Port Risks, Freight-Forwarders Liability, Repairers Liability, Builders Risks, Mortgagees, Terminals, and Average Disbursements
5. P&I Cover and Claims Handling
6. General Average & Salvage
7. Risks Management & Loss Prevention
8. A Marine Casualty – nature of claims arising and procedures to be followed

Duration: 4 months, part time (August/November 2014), commencing on Tuesday, 5th August 2014.
